the Gulf of Cádiz, It is located 20 kilometres south-east from the capital city (Cádiz) and 125 km from Seville. It has a population of around 85.000 inhabitants. The economy depends largely upon modern industry, especially salt processing and tourism, and the municipality is known for its beaches such as the 6 kilometres long Playa de la Barrosa, hotels and golf courses in the resort of Novo Sancti Petri. The town can offer its visitors spectacular natural environments like marshlands, pine forests and salterns, a variety of cultural activities (a multiplex cinema with 10 rooms, a public library, a theatre, various museums, typical wineries...), unique natural landscapes in which to practice running, hiking or mountain biking together with wide variety of sport facilities to practice golf, tennis, paddle tennis, horse riding or water sports.
